

Recommendations for users of the database

Please enter your practice into the database by filling out the sections, following the recommendations below:

1. Indicate one or more thematic blocks and categories to which the practice belongs.
2. Specify the title of the practice. The title of the practice should be more detailed than the title of the thematic block or category. The title of the practice may reflect the technique and technology used, the characteristics of the forest stands, the location of the practice, etc.
3. Indicate the location of the practice, including country, region, forest zone (using the drop-down menu). Upload a graphic file and/or a polygon hyperlink.
4. Please formulate the aim of the practice. Indicate the effect (expected results) you plan to get from the implementation of the practice. Practices can be aimed at, for instance, increasing forest productivity, preventing conflicts with local communities, collecting precise and up-to-date information on forest stands, maintaining biodiversity in commercial forests while wood harvesting, climate change mitigation, etc.
5. Describe the practice. The description may include relevance, the key stages of the practice implementation, quantitative characteristics, the main drivers of the practice, plans for the practice development. Maximum 2500 characters.
6. Upload illustrations (photos) of the practice. The maximum file size is 8MB.
7. Upload additional materials on practice. The maximum file size is 8MB.
8. Upload hyperlinks to the publications related to the practice.
9. Indicate the status of the forest user using the drop-down menu.
10. Reflect the participation of the forest user in forest certification schemes.
11. Provide contacts of the person, from the forest user side, responsible for the practice.
12. Indicate the year when the practice was first introduced (drop-down menu).
13. Choose the stage of practice development (implementation).
14. Choose one or more drivers of practice implementation. The drivers help to answer the question: Why was the practice introduced?
15. Assess the possibility of replicating practice (dissemination of experience).
16. Indicate the situation with monitoring the results/effects from the implementation of the practice. Describe the approaches to current or planned monitoring of practice, as well as monitoring outcomes (if applicable).
17. Indicate the effectiveness of the monitoring practice of the practice, based on monitoring outcomes (if applicable).
18. Formulate the key success factors. Maximum 2500 characters.
19. Formulate limitations and difficulties in the process of practice implementation.
